

one line drawing
with white pen
and black water
colour

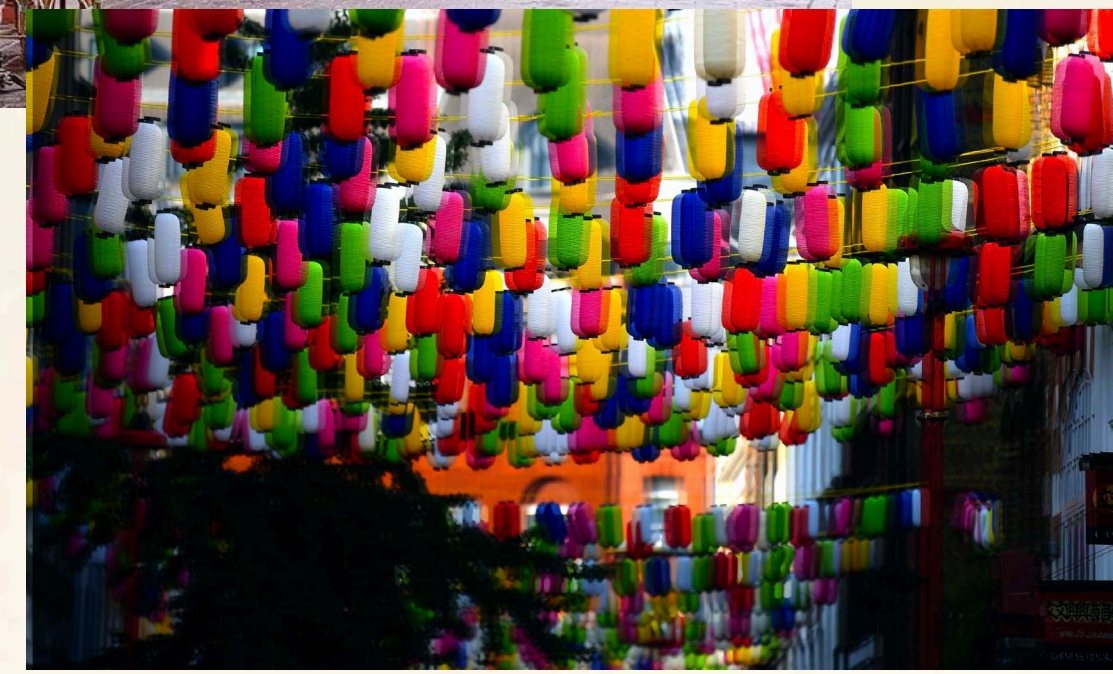

Different shapes of chilli
pepper, using watercolour
to present in different forms.

I went to China town to eat spicy food sichuan style fish fillets with pickled greens and dried chilili fry with pork rips.

Reference from China town

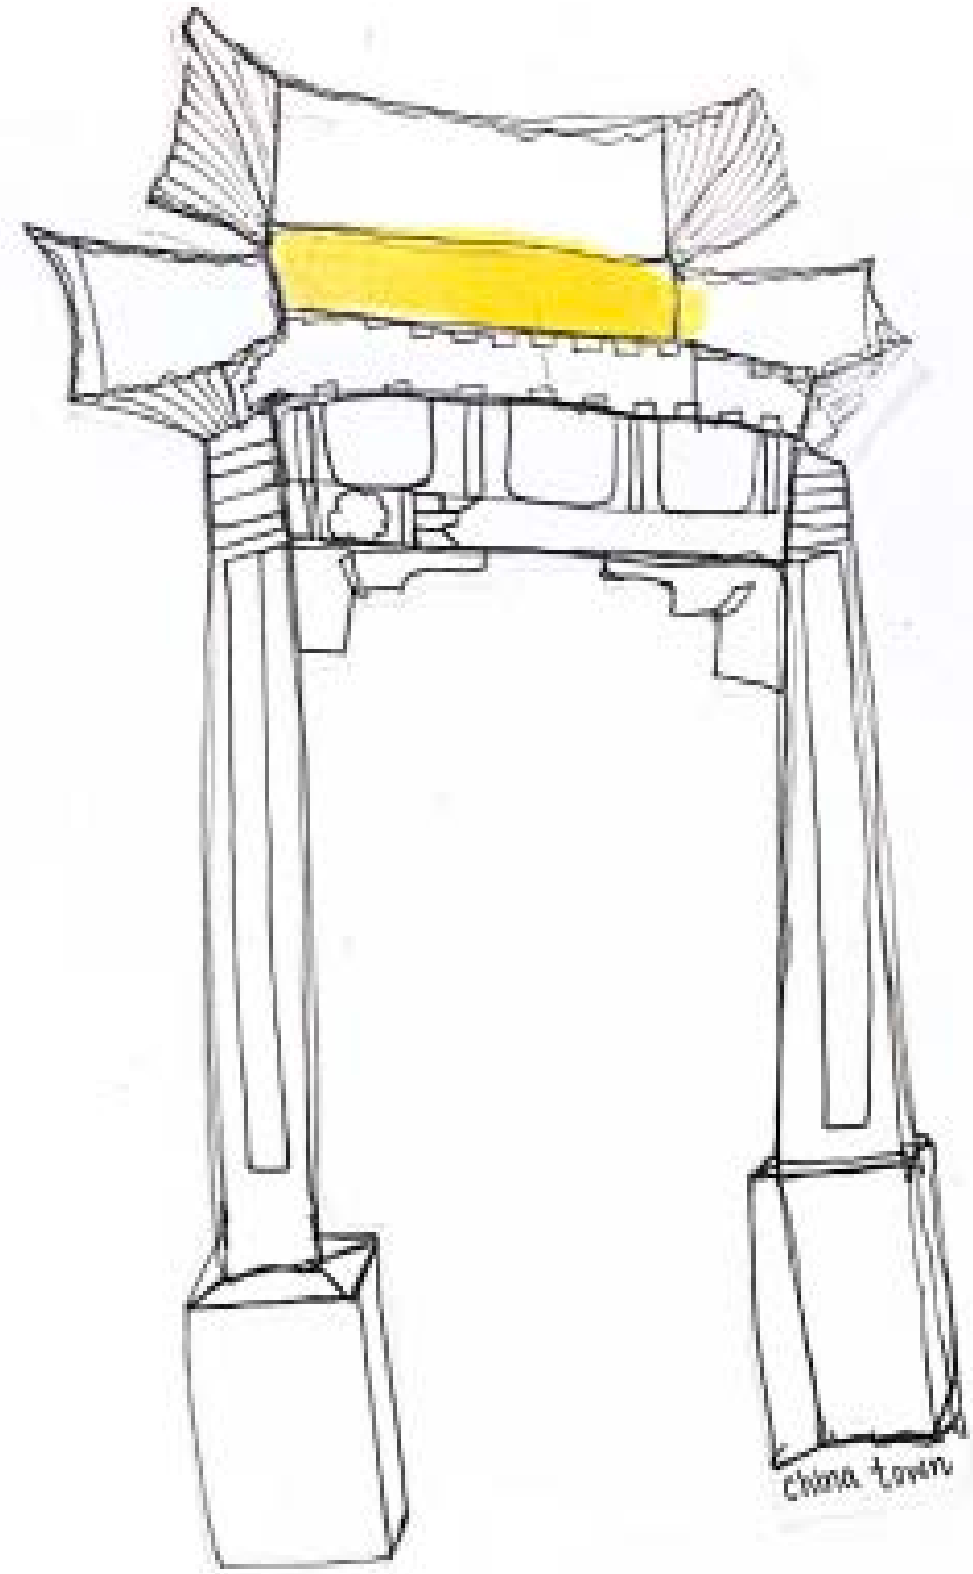

I did some photoshop to layer the lantern photo in order to make the movement and the blurriness

I get inspired from the colourful lanterns and to create this pattern.

It was my first time went to China Town in the evening. The lanterns look more brighter, the colour contrast is stronger compare to the morning.

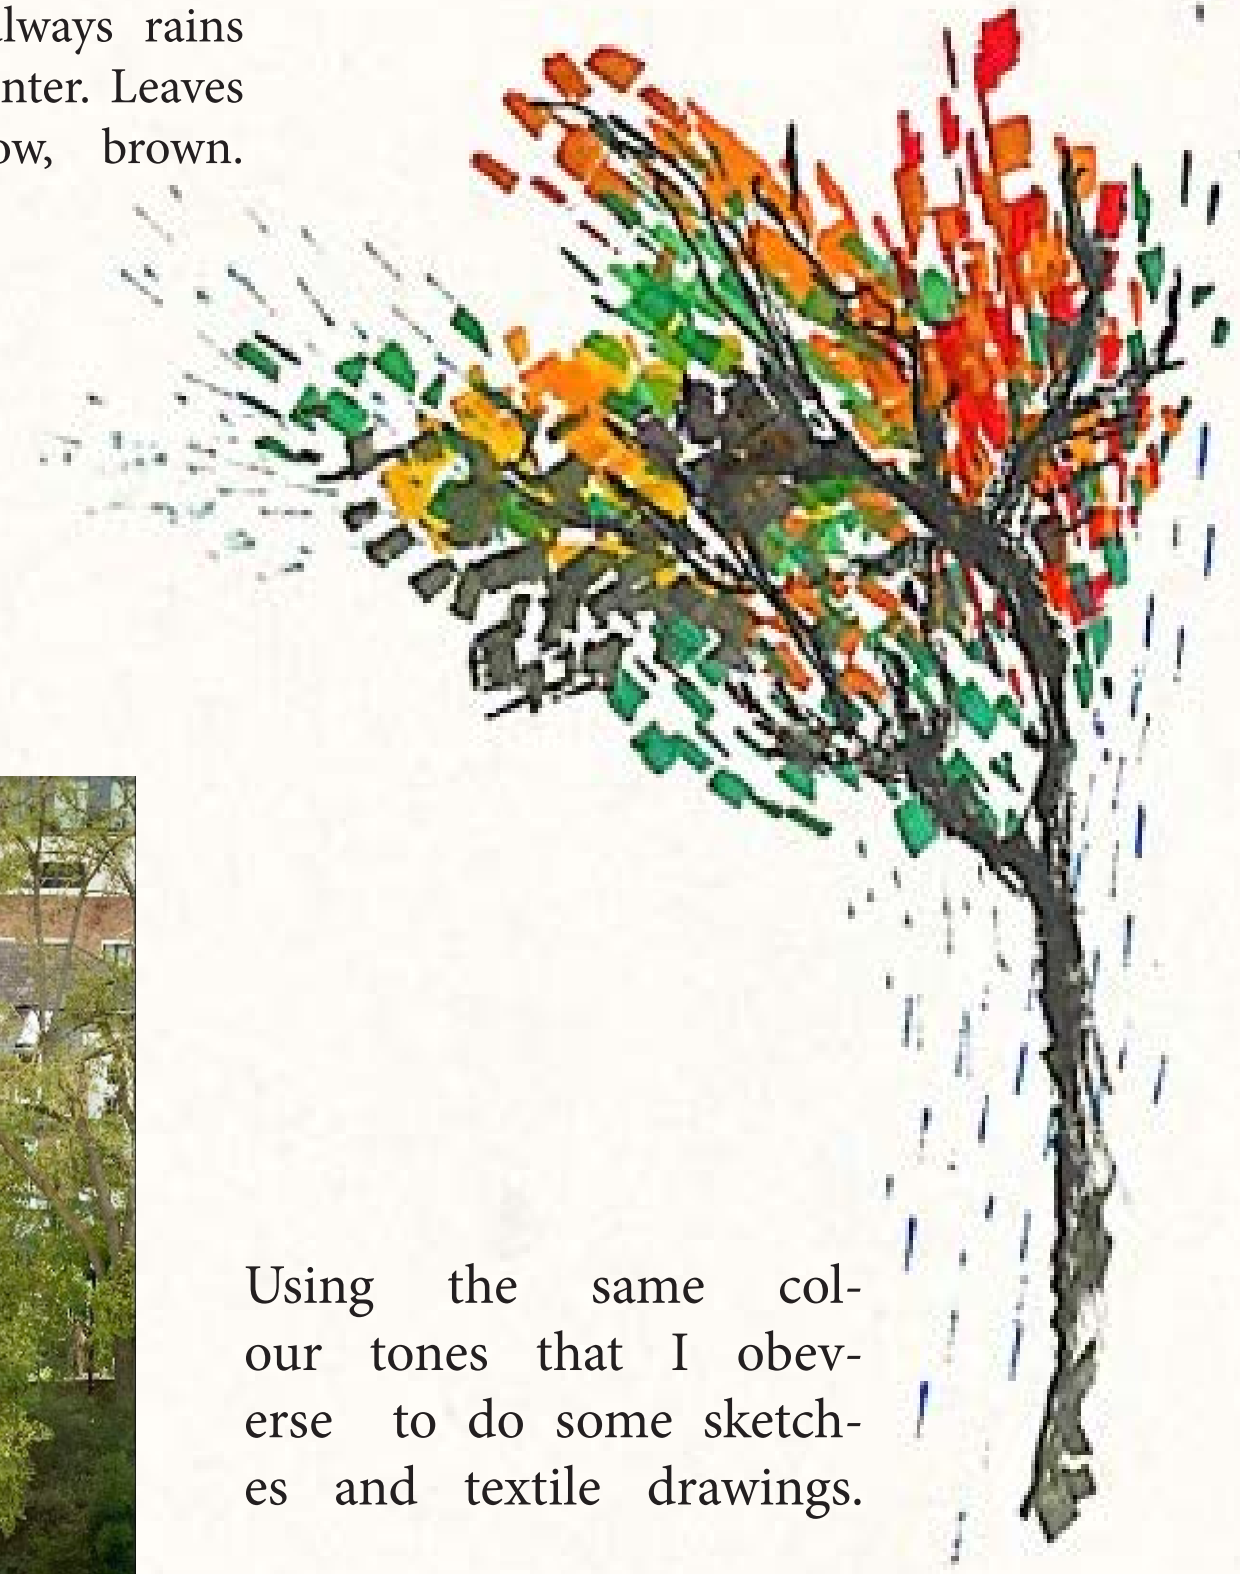

When I saw the KOWLOON restaurant, it reminds me of my hometown --HONG KONG. Kowloon is one of the district in HK.

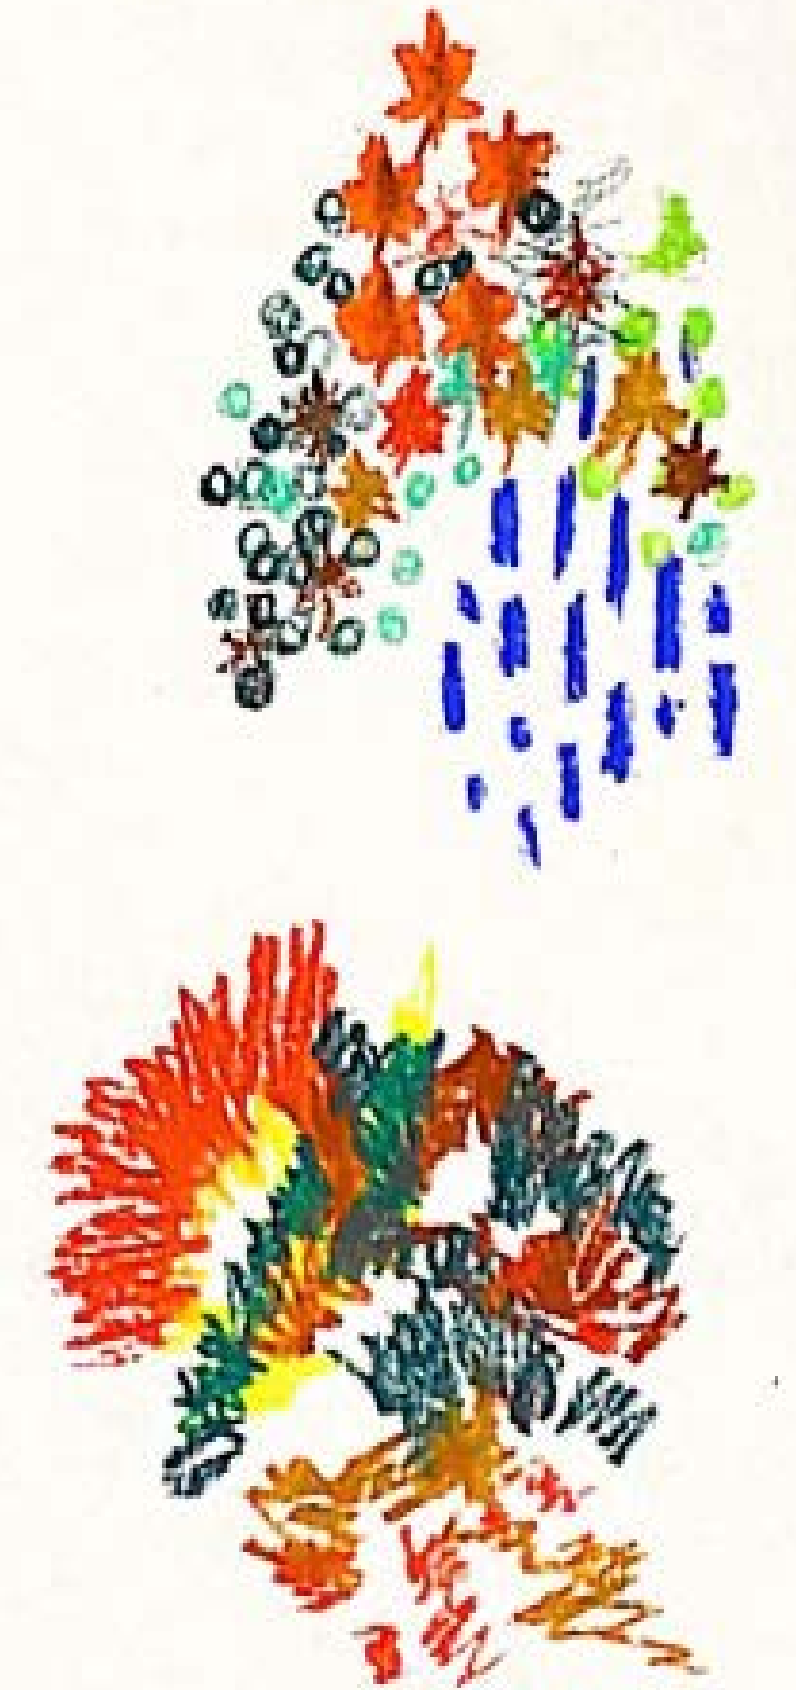

Since UK's weather always rains and it is turning to winter. Leaves falls and turn yellow, brown.

Using the same colour tones that I observe to do some sketches and textile drawings.

I have made a weaving based on the view I captured in London . Flower , the autumn vibe and I did some mark making by using sponge to create some shapes that I get inspired from leaves .

All these things are inspired by the nature . Colour, pattern, line with my own interpretation of nature. Water, light, deep, plants, sunlight, fruits... and plants.

